

FORBES IS IN JAIL

One of the Daring Jail-Breakers
Returns to Town

TO GET A CHANGE OF LINEN

He Is Nabbed at His Father's Home and Committed to Prison—His Tells Several Yarns.

Arthur Forbes, who escaped from the county jail with John Brisson early Wednesday morning in a bid to beat the bars. He was caught at his father's residence on the west side last night about 10 o'clock by members of the sheriff's force and returned to jail. He had just come to the city a few minutes before a C. & W. M. train from Muskegon, and was in the act of putting on a clean shirt when the officers arrived. The sheriff was notified that Forbes was home and Deputy Powers, Cusick, Brinkman, Hummer and Cowan went over and surrounded the house. When the young man was taken to the jail he complained of painful blisters on his feet, caused by his continued walking. When asked where he had been he said he had been working for a farmer near Britton on the Michigan Central road but his stories were improbable and contradictory. He said he and Brisson cut their way out of the jail with a saw made from a steel plank from a shoe found in the jail corridor, and after their escape the two men separated when they reached the Michigan Central tracks. He went east and Brisson took a westward course. He said he went home to get a change of clothing with the intention of leaving the city again before midnight. The sheriff's force gave little credence to Forbes' story, but think he and Brisson went down the river in a boat and separated near Grand Haven. Forbes' hands were blistered, which is considered as evidence that he had been rowing a boat. He said he knew nothing of Brisson's whereabouts. He told the officers that they had been a few minutes later he would have been out of the city and beyond their reach.

At the time Forbes escaped he had but short time to serve on a ninety-day sentence. He is now liable to prosecution on a charge of jail breaking, which is punishable by imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years. The officers who have spent most of the time for the past week searching for him will say that he does not escape prosecution for escaping.

Arrested a Jewelry Thief

Detectives Gast and Jakeway arrested William Wood on Butterworth avenue yesterday afternoon on suspicion of larceny. Wood had in his possession a quantity of jewelry which he was offering for sale. The pieces were composed of rings, watch cases, chains and studs. It is thought the property was stolen and the owner may be able to recognize it by the commercial marks which it contains. One chain was marked R. S. and another rolled plate chain was marked 2 m and numbered 602. There were two chased band rings marked E. H. G. and valued at $25 each. There were several Faby Montauk watch cases among the lot and the whole outfit was of considerable value. Wood was held for examination.

Waterloo Street Coffee House.

U. and will open the long discussed coffee house without lingering longer for outside aid. A week from tonight the formal opening will take place. Portions of beds and other furniture have already been made, but more furniture and cooking utensils are needed. The second floor of the building will be partitioned off into eating and sleeping rooms. The latter will be free to all, and only the smallest possible price will be charged for food. For a time Mrs. McMillan will undertake to do the cooking, so that no extra help will be required.

Were Greatly Disappointed.

If the sidewalk on Waterloo street near the steamboat landing is more shored than usual, it is owing to the amount of stamping and cursing done by the disappointed persons who started Sunday morning for a boat ride to Grand Haven and found after a walk of a half mile that the Valley City would not take her usual trip. There were not many of the disappointed ones, but they were just as mad as if there had been one thousand. A notice had been printed in the papers that the boat would not run and again the error of failing to read the papers is illustrated.

B. J. Bullard Badly Injured.

B. J. Bullard is confined at his home, No. 477 Scribner street, with a badly sprained ankle and broken right arm. His horse was frightened at a yard engine near the Wallin leather works and became unmanageable, throwing him out of the buggy, one wheel passing over his arm. The rig collided with a telegraph pole, detaching the horse from the buggy, which was badly demoralized. The horse was stopped at the G. R. & I. railroad crossing, and was uninjured. It is expected Mr. Bullard will not be able to be out for two or three weeks.

His remains were brought to Saginaw, but the coroner, when he found the accident occurred in Bay City, sent the fragments back to Bay City. A letter was found in his pocket addressed to C. A. Potter. The same name was found in his hat, and a new pair of shoes with the mark of the Excelsior store in this city, were worn by the stranger.

Charles P. Warner Arrested Last Evening for False Pretense.

DR. LAKIN THE COMPLAINANT

Trouble Grew Out of a Homestead and Fine Land Deal in Ontonagon County.

Charles P. Warner, formerly a reporter on the Democrat and recently editor of the Hastings Democrat, was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Powers at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon on a capias issued on complaint of Dr. Lakin of this city. The doctor places his damage at $2,000. The trouble grew out of a homestead deal in Ontonagon county, where Warner has been living on a claim for several months. Warner and the doctor entered into an agreement by which Warner was required to locate on a quarter section of government land in Ontonagon county under the homestead laws, and during his residence there the doctor was to furnish him the sum of $50 per month with which to buy groceries. They were to divide interests in the claim whenever it should be "proven up" or sold. Some difficulty arose between the two men after Warner had lived on the claim a few months and Warner claims the doctor withheld the $50 a month remittance. Warner said he supposed this action on the part of the doctor annulled the contract between them and he sold the claim. The doctor has expended considerable money in the scheme, and from reports, he has little expectation of realizing anything from his venture without the aid of the law. Warner came to this city yesterday morning. He was taken to jail, where he remained last night, and this morning will be arraigned on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Another deal in which the doctor claims Warner defrauded him was in the purchase of pine land. He claims Warner represented to him that he could buy a tract of pine for him for $200. The doctor sent the $200 on Warner's representation, and the doctor claims he bought the tract for $40 and kept the remaining $160.

City Taxes Are Lower.

City taxes will be payable August 1, and it is announced that they will be somewhat lower than last year. Supervisor Skeels of the eleventh ward said last evening that the per cent of taxation is a little lower in every ward. In his ward and the fifth the rate has been fixed at $1.63 on $100 valuation, while last year the rate of taxation was $1.75. This, Mr. Skeels says, is due to a smaller city budget and increased valuations of city property.

Drummers Go to Chicago.

This is traveling men's week at the world's fair, and eighty-five Grand Rapids Knights of the Grip fled themselves toward the windy city yesterday. They went over the C. & W. M., in company with delegations from the eastern and northern portions of the state. There were about 200 in the party. They went to St. Joseph and took the boat from there to Chicago.
